TEAM MIX

Who explores, who delivers, who connects

1 Explore 2 Deliver 1 Connect 4 Balanced

Read: mostly balanced all-rounders, with one dedicated explorer and one connector. Ananya carries most cross-team coordination, and a Growth quarter will lean on her heavily: protect her capacity or develop a second connector.

AREAS OF CAUTION

High — Vikram Nair · High overcommitment risk and high conflict risk
Review his deal load this week and agree explicit ways of raising disagreements with pre-sales.

Medium — Ishita Rao · High pressure sensitivity
Move to twice-weekly check-ins during quarter-end and give her renewals before new-logo work.

Medium — Diya Raman · Low execution orientation
Add weekly milestones and a shared pipeline checklist; pair her with Rohan on follow-ups.

Watch — Team · Only one connector for a Growth quarter
Protect Ananya's capacity; consider developing Meera's Integrator side as a second connector.

BIG FIVE PROFILE

Team average, with the lowest member marked

Why the marker matters: where everyone's work is needed, the lowest score on reliability and cooperation shapes team results, not just the average. For Neuroticism, the highest member is marked.

NEXT STEPS FOR THE MANAGER

1. Share each person's profile in a 1:1 and ask: "Does this sound right?"
2. Agree the quarter's objectives and check-in rhythm with each person.
3. Act on the four areas of caution this week.
4. Re-assess Rohan and Ishita within 30 days; the whole team in 3 to 6 months.
